

Partner with us.

Valeyo delivers purpose-built business solutions that help financial institutions grow, innovate, and create stronger, more connected experiences. We strive to build the best, so we only partner with the best.

Become part of something bigger. As a distribution partner, you become part of a forward-looking organization committed to building for the future. Collaborate with us and deliver true omnichannel experiences for institutions and their customers.

Join our distribution network

Elevate your brand: Tap into an existing client base and immediately grow your presence in new and established markets.

Boost revenue: Maximize sales and revenue by imbedding your products within a solution or as part of our revenue generating programs.

Integrate with ease: Our API-based platforms make the insurance sales experience seamless. Delight at how easily our solutions plug n' play to multiple channels in-branch and online.

Expand your reach: With 3 in-market products for loan origination and an API-based insurance point of sale platform, Valeyo is already transforming the lending and insurance experience in collaboration with providers like you. Canadian-based and built, we're delivering seamless, end-to-end customer experiences across a national reach.

70+

financial institution clients across five markets

6,000+

active users on our technology suite

140,000

credit applications and insurance transactions processed since 2018

Grow your brand & presence

Contact us for more information.

Valeyo is a leading Canadian-based solutions provider, partnering to deliver a full suite of business solutions, including lending technology and insurance related products and services for financial institutions nationwide. For more than 40 years, clients have trusted us to be their go-to provider based on the strength of our proprietary products, strategic partnership and people. Valeyo is a wholly owned, independently operated subsidiary of Securian Financial Group.

